

“Ethics and Armed Forces”

E-Journal – now online!

The first international E-Journal for recent topics of military ethics and security policy - the military's role in the wars and societies of the 21st century is worldwide under close scrutiny. Well-known authors critically examine recent issues of modern warfare from an interdisciplinary perspective.

“Ethics and Armed Forces” is published twice a year in English and German and addresses an international public, readers of the military, military chaplains and academia.

All issues on www.ethicsandarmedforces.com

Ethics

Controversies in Military Ethics &
Security Policy

and Armed Forces

Anonymous Killing by new technologies?

The soldier between conscience and machine

Lethal Autonomous Systems and the Plight of the Non-combatant

Ronald Arkin

The Need for a Preemptive Prohibition on Fully Autonomous Weapons

Steve Goose

Of Men and Machines. What does the Robotization of the Military Mean from an Ethical Perspective?

Bernhard Koch

Armed Drones: Legal Issues from an International Law Perspective

Stefan Oeter

Killing by Drones: The Problematic Practice of U.S. Drone Warfare

Peter Rudolf

Drones, Robots and the Ethics of War

Daniel Statman

My New Fellow Soldier – Corporal Robot

Jörg Wellbrink

Special: New Insights about Drone Pilots and PTSD – How Vulnerable are they?

Editor: zebis, Zentrum für ethische Bildung in den Streitkräften
Herrengarten 4, 20459 Hamburg
Tel. (040) 67 08 59 - 55
info@zebis.eu